VINEYARD: The Tierra Alta Vineyard is tucked away in the center of the Santa Ynez Valley. It can be found on Ballard Canyon Road, amongst several of the finest Syrah producing vineyards in Santa Barbara County. The first harvest of this vineyard was in 2003.

WINEMAKING: This Syrah was aged 18 months in French oak barrels, 20% new oak.

TASTING NOTES: This Syrah from Ballard Canyon is as complex as it is delicious. Beside the obvious purple fruit elements, there are subtle yet distinct notes of green apple on the nose, nestled in hints of licorice root. Once this wine hits the palate, it fills the mouth with flavors of black cherry and root beer, finishing with lasting, silky tannins.
